

Dramawork

where imagination meets reality

Exciting Professional Development Opportunity for Teachers!!!

Workshop with:

Honorary Professor John O'Toole Univ of Melbourne, and Griffiths Univ - Brisbane

Remember the exciting workshop led by Juliana and Carole in February (oversubscribed - people turned away!) WELL here is another opportunity to work with an International leader in the field of Drama in Education. Suitable for primary and secondary.

Honorary Professor John O'Toole is presently the Lead Writer for Arts and Drama for the new Australian National Curriculum. John has worked extensively with Assoc Professor Peter O'Connor, Univ of Auckland, and is co-author of the text Pretending To Learn - Helping Children Learn Through Drama and many other widely used texts in Drama in Education.

This practical, hands on workshop, led by John will focus on:

- * Morning - participating in process drama
- * Afternoon - Planning process drama (for your own students)

When: Saturday, 26th November 2011

Where: Hotel Motel Taieri, Mosgiel

Time: 9 am - 4.00 pm

Cost: $150 per person GST inclusive (morning tea included, lunch available at venue.) Plenty of FREE parking.

To register please email your name, school, email address and a contact phone number to dramaworkz@ihug.co.nz and

Pay directly into BNZ Bank Account No: 020918 0182151 02 Or

Post: name, school, email address and a contact ph number, with cheque to:
Evelyn Mann, 79a Factory Rd, Mosgiel 9024.

For further information email dramaworkz@ihug.co.nz, or phone 03 4847101
or 021 689161